City Spirit: The Best Urban Distilleries

House Spirits in Portland, Oregon

Portland, Oregon is home to several urban distilleries, and the largest—not just in the city, but in the entire state—is House Spirits, which has just opened a new facility. "We are really proud of our downtown location, and believe that our Portland culture and love for this city [has] helped shape our brand over the course of the past decade," said founder Christian Krogstad. House Spirits was conceived of as cocktail and distiller collaboration, and that sensibility continues today. The team often works with local establishments like Raven & Rose on cocktails and cask strength-versions of their spirits, and they participated in this past year's Feast Portland food and drinks festival. Visitors can sample and purchase Aviation American Gin, Krogstad Festlig Aquavit, Westward Oregon Straight malt Whiskey and more at the House Spirits Tasting Room.
