

 Beer's Knees Hefeweizen Cocktail Recipe

SEPTEMBER 30, 2013

Beer cocktails are all the rage right now, and we've found they're a great way to convince "beer only" drinkers that they might be cocktail people after all. We like this combination of Aviation gin, lemon, honey and Hefeweizen - we imagine it's floral, tart and sweet without being overwhelming. The Aviation folks say it pairs well with Buffalo chicken and football, so who are we to question that?

Beer's Knees Cocktail

Ingredients:

- 1½ oz. Aviation American Gin
- 1 oz. Lemon juice
- 1 oz. Honey syrup*
- 3 oz. Widmer Hefeweizen

Directions:

In a pint glass, add spirits and mixers (through beer). Fill with ice. Shake vigorously. Strain into a collins glass filled with or without ice. Garnish with a lemon wedge.

*To make honey syrup: Combine equal portions of honey and water in a sauce pan. Bring to a boil until all the sugar has dissolved. Let cool.
