PETER PAN

373 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario M5V 2A4 416-792-3838

A Queen West institution for over a century, Peter Pan recently reopened after 11 long months of renovations under the watch of chef Noah Goldberg (the Feasting Room).

Toronto's MO is demolishing the traditional in favour of whatever's quick and glossy, but Peter Pan's lovingly updated interior – complete with original tin ceiling and gorgeous deco details – marries old and new into one of the city's most beautiful rooms.

But onto June's hottest topic: the patio. If you can tear yourself away from the best seats in the house (stationed at the bar, naturally), the backyard is more inviting than ever. With umbrellas for shade, pillows and potted plants, it's a pretty escape in the middle of the city.

Sip through bar manger Charlie Lamont's list of excellent gin-based cocktails like the American Hipster (Aviation gin, fino sherry, grape, apple and absinthe), Key In The Door (Absolut vodka, Beefeater gin, Lillet Blanc, dill, cucumber, apple, bergamot and milk) and three different gin and tonics including the spicy, refreshing Eastern Promises (Bombay Sapphire East, kaffir-lime-infused Lillet, cilantro, mango and Fever Tree tonic), all $12.
