AVIATION AMERICAN GIN

If you like to enjoy a cocktail now and again, but the juniper blast in most gins is more than you prefer, Aviation American Gin might be a great match for you. Aviation intends to take a step away from some traditional gins that have saturated the market and put a unique, fresh stamp on the industry. It's a dry gin, handcrafted in the Pacific Northwest with plenty of fresh citrus flavors along with some hints of lavender and sarsaparilla — making it a fantastic mixer. Combine that with a simple, sexy new bottle and you have a gin that is clearly ready for take off.
