

6 Must-Sip Summer Cocktails in LA

By Lesley Balla | June 25, 2015

When it comes to summer cocktails, all we really want is something icy cold. But local bartenders are looking to the fruits (and herbs and vegetables) of the season to make their sips even more of the moment. Here are six new cocktails to sip right now.

6) Red Right Hand at Sassafras

The Hollywood New Orleans–inspired bar recently introduced boozy slushies, like the Red Right Hand, made with Aviation gin, Benedictine, fresh cherry juice, lemon, pineapple and bitters. There's another one made with bourbon, cold-brew coffee and malted milk. Kick back and pretend you're just outside of the French Quarter.
